Personal Do's and Don'ts

Do be extremely FLEXIBLE.

Do boldly proclaim the gospel at every possible opportunity.

Do expect God to use you to accomplish great things for His glory.

Do follow the advice of your interpreter when it comes to following local customs and practices.

Do keep your passport securely on your person at all times when away from the hotel.

Do train, equip, and exercise your mission point pastors and helpers in sharing the gospel and conducting follow-up discipleship training.

Do drink plenty of water every day.

Do prepare to preach in a local church on Sunday if you are a male or to share your testimony if you are a female.

Don't leave money or other valuables in your hotel room.

Don't make any promises that you are not 100% sure you can personally keep.

Don't make any commitments on behalf of EPPIC Ministries International without the prior approval of your team leader.

Don't make any personal commitments that you are not 100% sure you will be able to fulfill.

Don't flash money.

Don't give money to anyone until you seek the advice of your team leader.

Don't drink anything that isn't bottled or boiled.

Don't brush your teeth with anything but bottled water.

Don't eat anything that hasn't been thoroughly cooked. Eating fruit you peel yourself is usually safe.
